

GEAR'D UP!

Remembering September 11th

A lone bike rack recovered from the WTC now lives on in the 911 Memorial Museum in NYC. It's amazing that it survived. The bikes attached to it were once owned by bike messengers and commuters who rode to work like we do, on any other day. Take a moment on Saturday, to be thankful and grateful, and to honor those we lost, and to those who fought to find survivors. Read more here.

SABA Social Ride: Wide Open Walls 2021

We will be celebrating the fabulous wall art throughout our City on Sunday with our monthly social ride. We'll ride 4-5 miles total and take in the new murals as well as a number of those that have been up for a year or two gracing Sacramento.

David Sobon, the Director of Wide Open Walls, will join us providing information about the artists and the murals we're enjoying.

The details:

When – Sunday, September 12th.

Ride 1: meet at 8:30AM, roll at 9:00 AM

Ride 2: meet at 12:30PM, roll at 1:00 PM

Both rides start at Insight Coffee, on the corner of 8th Street and S Street.

Length of ride: 4-5 miles, taking up to 2 hours depending on how much we stop and learn!

Helmets recommended and we'll have waivers for you at Insight Coffee.

All are welcome!

Hope to see you there! Have Questions? Just ask.
