

GEAR'D UP!

Today is the International Day of Clean Air for Blue Skies

Right now, the AQI (air quality index) in Sacramento reports our air quality at a 12 which is great, but we know that typically during the late summer, our air quality can be much much worse due to wildfire smoke.

Encouraged by the increasing interest of the international community in clean air, and emphasizing the need to make efforts to improve air quality, reduce air pollution, and to protect human health, the United Nations decided to designate 7 September as the International Day of Clean Air for blue skies. Learn more about this here. Happy Clean Air for Blue Skies!
